DECORATION DAY.

Owing to the heavy rain that fell nearly all day Thursday the usual visit to the cemeteries by the veterans, school children and organizations was omitted but the exercises in Seaver's hall were fairly well attended. The band furnished music and the reading of the order for Memorial day exercises and of Lincoln's Gettysburg speech was by the chaplain of Quimby post, E. N. Randall. Rev. W. E. Allen offered prayer and E. G. Collister introduced the speaker, Wallace H. Gilpin. Mr. Gilpin spoke of the inability of the younger generation to comprehend the meaning of the war and spoke of his regret that Memorial day was being used so generally for sports when it should be sacredly observed after touching upon the prominent part Vermont soldiers took in the war he drew a lesson for better citizenship, pointing out the weakening of the race through carelessness of thought and deed of parents. He closed with convincing points of the truth of this state of affairs, as conditions in Orleans county show, and appealed for a better and nobler manhood and womanhood among our citizens, young and old.

The races and ball game scheduled for the afternoon were necessarily omitted because of the weather, but over 100 visitors and townsmen interested in the Barton Driving club gathered for the banquet at Hotel Barton that evening. Post-prandial exercises were held, Judge Frank D. Thompson acting as toastmaster and a number responded.

COMMENCEMENT.

The commencement exercises of Barton academy were given at Seaver's hall Thursday evening. Despite the inclemency of the weather the hall was filled. The program of the exercises was as follows: Music; invocation, Rev. W. E. Allen; salutatory and essay, "Ideals," Nellie Cassidy; oration, "The Political Progress of Canada," Burton Brooks; class prophecy, Phil Davis; oration, "The Expert's Training," Earl Fisk; class history, Clyde Cooper; music; essay, "The Power of Example," Theda Corley; oration, "Get Busy," H. Roy Brabana; class will, Robert Jewell; oration, "The Arrow and the Song," George Phillips; music; oration and valedictory, "The Relation of the Future Prosperity of America to the Development of the Rural Districts," Hiram McLellan. It was remarked that the parts were exceptionally well taken. Principal H. J. Stannard presented the diplomas with a few words reminding the class of the bond of lasting friendship between them and the faculty. At the close of the exercises Dr. Ozora Davis, president of the Chicago Theological Seminary, spoke to the class on the subject "The Debt to the Commonwealth" in a most helpful way.

After the exercises the floor was cleared for dancing. The music for the evening was furnished by the Young-Batchelder orchestra of St. Johnsbury.

The alumni banquet was given at Hotel Barton Friday evening. The committee in charge was Mrs. H. J. Stannard, Miss Sadie Corley and Fred D. Pierce and the success of the evening is largely due to their effort. Frank Corley, '11, was toastmaster of the evening. The ode of the class of '88 was rendered by Mrs. Batchelder and Mrs. Stannard and the class of '10 responded to this by singing their ode. The class poem of 1912 was read by H. Roy Brabana, the author. The members of the class of 1912 were welcomed as members of the alumni by Miss Glen Lang of the class of '10 and Roy Brabana responded in behalf of class of 1912. Dr. J. A. Pearson expressed in fitting words the need of establishing an endowment, even if it were a small amount at the start. Principals Stannard and Erwin in responding to toasts showed that a really successful educational system cannot be had without clean morals. Alton Baird, '04, spoke of a few experiences of that class by relating some very amusing stories. Miss Clemma Seaver, '08, responded to the toast, "School Spirit." Excellent music for the occasion was furnished by the school orchestra and familiar songs in which all participated enlivened the evening. The menu was most excellent.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Clarence Webster, president; Nellie Cassidy, vice president; Mrs. J. F. Batchelder, secretary and treasurer.

PLUMLEY AND OLEO

Some Vital Points on the Situation Brought Out in Letter to Editor. Farmers Greatly Interested.

Editor Monitor:—

Referring to the controversy between Hoard's Dairyman, (the leading dairy paper of the country, edited by ex-Gov. Hoard of Wisconsin), and Congressman Plumley as to Mr. Plumley's attitude concerning pending oleo legislation in Congress for the purpose of repealing the Grout law; and also his attitude toward those who have for many years and do now represent the national dairy interests of our country in opposing the repeal of the Grout law and its amendment; and inasmuch as nothing has appeared in our local papers to show the grounds of the controversy, except Mr. Plumley's letters, and having had correspondence with both Mr. Plumley and Gov. Hoard concerning the subject of Oleo legislation, which shows more fully what the controversy is about, I will with your permission, give the correspondence and other matter bearing on the subject for the perusal of the dairy interests.

Mr. Plumley's letter to me is as follows:

I have yours of the 8th instant and today I have forwarded to you under another cover copies of the Lever and Haugan Bills, the Haugan Bill being the one he first introduced and also a copy of a pamphlet containing the two Bills as they appear now and the resolution adopted by the Committee. I also send you testimony taken before the Sub-Committee at the time indicated therein. Since these two bills are the only ones now actively considered I have not sent others, but will do so if you care for them. I do not now think of any literature of value other than the testimony mentioned. Hon. John Lamb is Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture which is the Committee to which all bills have been referred of which Committee I am the member from New England. Hon. A. F. Lever is the Chairman of the Sub-Committee of five named by the Chairman of the full Committee to which those bills were referred, of which Sub-Committee Mr. Haugan, of Iowa, and myself are the Republican members. These bills are yet in the formation stage neither meeting with the full approval of myself, or of Mr. Foster when living. The Senators while being fully
